$100-Year Increase

The Student Affairs Office said it had been swamp to release the information. "In the interest of students, we must explain to the increase is a small increase of $100."

The increase will go into effect during the first semester of the year.

The new tuition fee is $900 per year, or $100 per semester, an increase from $900.

He said the feeling was that out-of-state students should pay more to work and not to increase their rates.

He said the increase was necessary to keep the quality of education in the state. "We cannot afford to lose money on the education of the state," he said.

The greater part of State's revenues are already spent on education, he said. "Any state that has an educational system that is supported by state funds must pass a certain amount of tuition fees.

Effects of Students

The increase in tuition fees will have a great effect on the students. Students from out-of-state will have to pay an additional $100 per year.

Affect 229 Students

"The increase that goes into effect next year will affect 229 out-of-state students," the Student Affairs Office said.
